

SLIMLINE EMBEDDED TOUCH SCREEN POINT-OF-SALE.

Robust, Reliable & Packed Full of Features

HX-5500

Empower your business with the industry leading, all-in-one EPOS terminal, the HX-5500. Uniwell have been developing and refining POS technology for decades, understanding each unique customer and giving users the bespoke system requirements they seek. After all, no two businesses are exactly the same.

Uniwell has a long standing reputation for quality EPOS hardware that can handle the physical workload and processing requirements that a standard tablet, laptop or PC may not.

Online Ordering

Cloud Reporting

Faster Transactions

Table Management

A 15.6", bezel free, capacitive Touch Screen designed for all types of hospitality environments. Allow your customers to have their very own online order APP. See how your business is performing on the go with Cloud Based Reporting. Flexible and easy programming is assured with the HX-5500. Integrate your card machine for fast and accurate payments. Track each order through the flexible Table Management system, eat in, takeaway, online, on-site – all on one system.

microtek
Reliable EPOS Solutions

Uniwell HX-5500

An embedded POS terminal is an 'all-in-one' solution with no separation between operating system and POS application.

This singular purpose provides greatly enhanced security, as users can't access the internet and introduce external information to the POS terminal's memory.

Uniwell's proprietary technology removes risk areas in relation to system reliability. POS features are specifically designed to be robust and easy to operate. Third-party applications can't be loaded onto the dedicated POS terminal, so stability is not compromised.

Uniwell is a long-established POS manufacturer. Based in Osaka, Japan they have distributors all over the globe. That is where Microtek come in, since 2014 they have been the sole distributor of Uniwell products in the U.K. and Ireland. Uniwell uses capacitive touch screen technology. Their embedded software covers all functionality desired for the hospitality industry. Uniwell is not a modular system where the more you need, the more you pay. With Uniwell systems you have all the functionality, in one place, at competitive pricing.

Microtek are based in Leeds, with a micro office in Bristol and a network of partners across the whole of the U.K. and Ireland. Established in 1991, we are one of the few companies who supply, program, configure, install, train and repair. We do not outsource any of our responsibilities to our customers.

We believe Uniwell and Microtek really is the perfect partnership in POS. Talk to us to find out more.

Customer Loyalty

Retail & Hospitality

Online Ordering

Payment Solutions

EPOS Software

Cloud Services

Rental Options

Bespoke Solutions